HOUSING FESTIVAL

Housing Festival 2018 is a new type of housing event specifically for younger housing professionals and those who are new to the sector. It is organised by CIH NI Futures.

Date:	21 June 2018
Location:	The Treehouse, Belfast
Member rate:	£55
Non-member rate:	£80

What is it?

A new event (as in: new type, new format, new style of venue)
We mean it when we say this, you have not been to a CIH event like this one.

An event where you'll get more out of it if you take part!
You get out what you put in. If you come to Housing Festival 2018 you'll learn something. If you come to Housing Festival 2017 and get in the middle of it, you'll learn A LOT.

Informal!

You don't have to wear the conference costume, come as you are - it genuinely helps you get in the right mind set to learn.

For pretty much everyone apart from senior leadership!

You're still welcome chief executives, but we won't be doing the big policy landscape graphs of financially viable jargon doom. We do more than enough events for the other stuff.
