2. BACKGROUND TO PLAYBOARD

Introduction

PlayBoard is an independent charity and lead organisation for the development and promotion of children and young people's play in Northern Ireland. PlayBoard works to improve the quality of children and young people's lives through the provision of innovative services, all of which are designed to strengthen service delivery through information, support, training and tailored play provision.

PlayBoard has been committed to supporting children and young people's right to play since its establishment in 1985. Over the last thirty so years the organisation has grown and developed both its standing and remit. To achieve its vision the organisation works through a vast combination of:

- Service delivery and service development
- Campaigning and lobbying
- Research, evaluation and awareness raising
- Working in partnership with others to put play on the agenda of policy makers and resource providers, and
- Promoting best practice in Play and Playwork.

As a membership organisation, PlayBoard works closely with and provides support to its member groups. Our membership are committed to helping us achieve our vision and mission as collectively we all want to see improved play outcomes for all the children and young people's lives in Northern Ireland.

PlayBoard has come a long way since its formation in 1985. PlayBoard then was one of four UK national organisations set up under the auspices of the Association for Children's Play and Recreation, a UK-wide group with responsibility for co-ordinating children's play.

Although the PlayBoard of the 21st century is many miles away from the original Association, it has remained true to its old aims and objectives.

Through its 40-year journey PlayBoard has been guided by various government policy developments and legislation – the UK ratification of the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child; the Children (NI) Order and the PlayCare Initiative to name but a few, but PlayBoard has always remained true to its mission statement "Leading the Play Agenda" in working for the child's right to play.

Looking back over the history of PlayBoard, it is apparent that many of the philosophical issues that originally gave rise to PlayBoard back in 1985, still remain today. PlayBoard, however, remain committed to campaign, lobby and raise awareness of the play and leisure needs of children and young people and to putting play on the agenda of policy makers and resource providers.

Governance / Organisational Structure

PlayBoard NI is a registered charity (Charity Reference No. NIC104724), a voluntary organisation and a company limited by guarantee, (Company No. NI30225).

Committee members are appointed for a period of three years. Executive Committee members elected to an Honorary Officers post may extend their tenure to a maximum of six years. The Executive Committee can also co-opt up to four additional members to fill a skills gap in the Committee make up as they see fit

The day-to-day operations of PlayBoard are overseen by a Senior Leadership Team, which comprises of the Chief Executive and two Directors: The Director of Corporate Services and Finance and the Director of Service Delivery & Development.

- The Director of Corporate Services & Finance is responsible for the management of PlayBoard's accommodation, business continuity, communications, finance, HR, ICT and business support functions.
- The Director Service Delivery & Development is responsible for the development and delivery of all play services and strategic engagement at both a local and national level.

The current organisational structure is set out at Appendix 1.

3. STRATEGIC PLAN

Our Context

A membership organisation, PlayBoard work closely with and provides support to over 1,700 members, all of whom are committed to helping us to achieve our goal of developing quality play opportunities that improve children and young people's lives across Northern Ireland.

As a rights-based organisation, we strongly believe that play is an intrinsic aspect of children and young people's lives. PlayBoard works from the premise that play is fundamental to a healthy and happy childhood. Play challenges and informs our understanding of children and young people because it views them as competent and confident human beings.

This position is further endorsed by the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC, 1989). Article 31 declares:

"States Parties recognise the right of the child to rest and leisure, to engage in play and recreational activities appropriate to the age of the child and to participate fully in cultural life and the arts. States Parties shall respect and promote the right of the child to participate fully in cultural and artistic life and shall encourage the provision of appropriate and equal opportunities for cultural, artistic, recreational and leisure activity".

In our strategic planning phase, we seek to use our growing sphere of influence to convene ever more allies and partners. We seek to act as a catalyst for change and in doing so we shall harness the expertise and energy of our staff and volunteers to assist us in establishing lasting relationships with commissioners, council's policy makers and resource providers.

We wish to become known as an organisation that is underpinned by integrity and quality, an organisation that is outcome focused and solution orientated, that at all times operates in the best interests of its members, stakeholders and ultimately the children it seeks to serve. We understand that in the current context of political and economic instability that we need to be proactive and sufficiently agile so that we can best address emergent needs.

Our Vision

- A society where the right to play is both valued and realised

Our Mission

6. THE APPLICATION PROCESS

Application Form Guidance

THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION PROVIDES GUIDANCE ON COMPLETING YOUR APPLICATION. PLEASE READ THIS INFORMATION CAREFULLY BEFORE SUBMITTING YOUR APPLICATION

The application form is designed to ensure that applicants provide the necessary information to determine how they meet the requirements of the post and the shortlisting criteria.

ALL sections of the application form should be completed.

Drawing upon all of your experience from work or on a voluntary basis and using the Person Specification, consider how your skills, experience and abilities relate to each criterion required for this post.

In responding to the criteria, it is essential that you describe fully how and to what extent you meet the experience sought by providing clear information and examples.

It is not appropriate to simply list various posts you have held with no examples or descriptions of the experience gained as the selection panel will not make assumptions on job titles or the nature of the organisation as to the experience gained. Short listing for this post will be undertaken using only the information you have provided in response to each criterion.

Please remember it is the quality of the examples given along with precise details of where and when the experience was gained which matter, not the length of the response.

PlayBoard will not accept CVs, letters, or any other supplementary material in place of or in addition to completed application forms unless you are requested to provide it.

The space available on the application form is the same for all applicants and must not be altered.

Applicants must complete the application form in either typescript font size 12, or if handwritten in legible block capitals using black ink.

Information in support of your application will not be accepted after the closing date for receipt of applications.

Do not use acronyms, complex technical detail etc. Write for a reader who may not know your employer or your job.

Write down clearly your personal involvement in any experience you quote. Write "I" statements e.g. I planned meetings, I managed a budget, I prepared a presentation. It is how you actually carried out a piece of work that the panel will be interested in

The examples you provide should be concise and relevant to the criteria. This is very important as the examples which you provide may be checked out at interview and you may need to be prepared to talk about these in detail if you are invited to interview. It is your unique role the panel are interested in, not that of your team or organisation.

PlayBoard will not make assumptions from the title of the applicant's post or the nature of the organisation as to the skills and experience gained. If you do not provide sufficient detail, including the appropriate dates needed to meet the criteria, the selection panel will reject your application.

ONLY the details provided by you in your application form (Section 2 Employment History, Section 4 Essential Criteria.) will be provided to the selection panel for the purpose of determining your eligibility for the post. It is up to you to tell them what you have done in order to meet the Essential Criteria.

It is intended that interviews for this post will take place face to face within PlayBoard's office. Shortlisted candidates will receive information prior to interview. Interviews will not normally be rescheduled to accommodate applicants who are unable to attend on the agreed date. Reschedules will be entirely at the discretion of the panel. You should note that the Monitoring Form is regarded as part of your application and failure to fully complete and return it will result in disqualification. The Monitoring Form will be processed separately and neither the form nor the details contained in it will be available to those considering your application or anyone other than the HR person dealing with the process.

Order of Merit

The selection panel will assess applicants against the interview criteria. Those applicants who meet the required standard(s) and pass mark will be deemed suitable for appointment. The selection panel will then list those suitable for appointment in order of merit with the highest scoring applicant ranked first.

7. INTERVIEW GUIDANCE FOR APPLICANTS

The Competency Based Interview process is designed to help you to present relevant evidence to enable the decision makers to evaluate 'fit' against the requirements of a particular role. Relevant evidence is usually, but not exclusively, drawn from your work experience and the way in which you have accomplished a range of activities or projects.

The information you provide will be evaluated against the specific skills and competencies required for effective performance in the role. Make sure you give enough detail so that panel members understand what you actually did not make assumptions that they may understand you demonstrate a skill at the right level just because of your current role, length of experience or educational qualifications.

If this is your first experience of a competence-based interview, bear in mind that it does not require you to:

- Talk through previous jobs or appointments from start to finish.
- Provide generalised information as to your background and experience; or
- Provide information that is not specifically relevant to the competence the question is designed to test.

A competence-based interview does however require you to:

- Focus exclusively, in your responses, on your ability to fulfil the competences required for effective performance in the role; and
- Provide specific examples of your experience in relation to the required competence areas.

In preparation for the interview, you may wish to think about having a clear structure for each of your examples, such as:

- Situation – briefly outline the situation.
- Task – what was your objective, what were you trying to achieve.
- Action – what did you actually do, what was your unique contribution; and
- Result – what happened, what was the outcome, what did you learn.

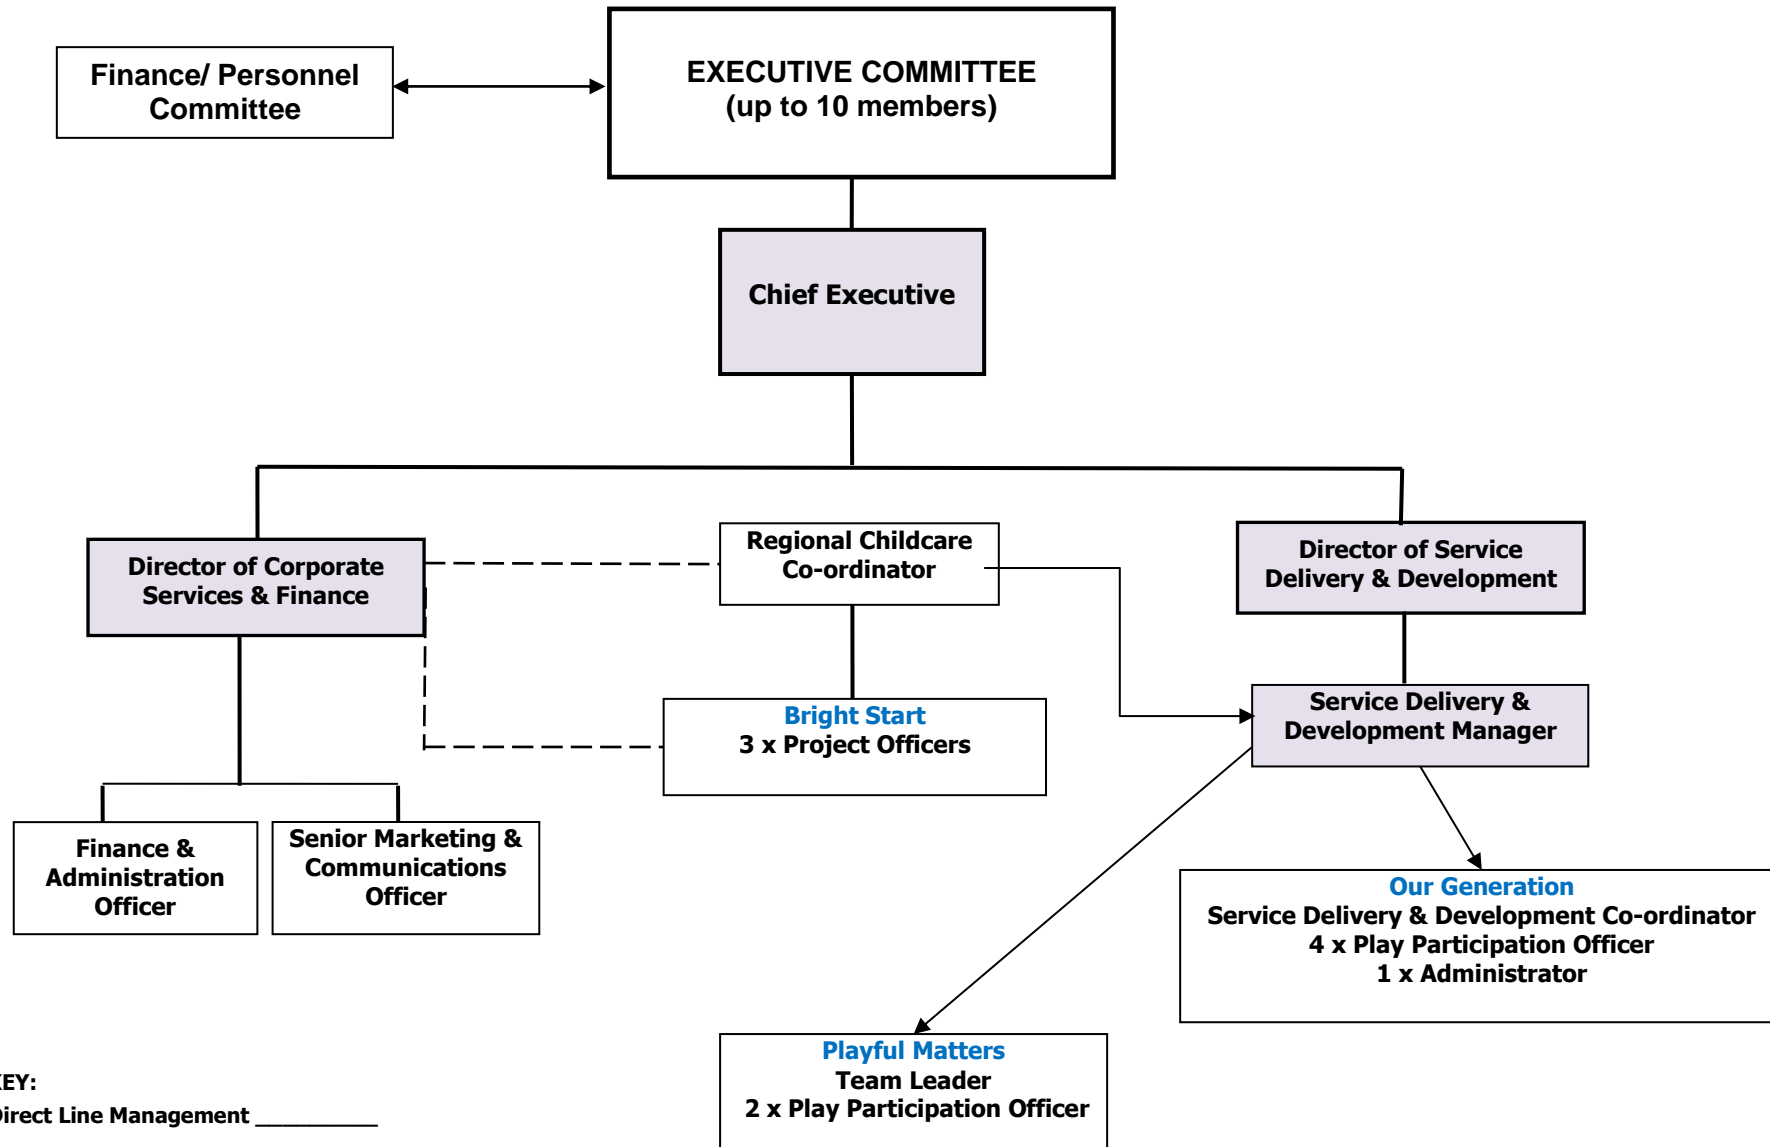

The panel will ask you to provide specific examples from your past experience in relation to each of the competences. You should therefore come to the interview prepared to discuss in detail a range of examples which best illustrate your skills and abilities in each competence area. You may draw examples from any area of your work / life experiences.

- Give specific examples - most questions will ask you to describe an example of when you have demonstrated a skill. Try to do this concisely but with enough detail so that the panel will be clear about what you actually did and how you did it. This detail might include information about timescales, the number of people involved etc.
- For example, if a question is about your approach to decision making, you need to do more than describe your current role and list important decisions you have made. You will need to describe how you reached that relevant decision.
- Give a range of examples – if possible, base your answers on different situations or challenges you faced rather than rely on just one experience. This helps the panel to evaluate how you tackle different challenges and not just your behaviour in a 'one off' situation. However, one example can be used to demonstrate competence in a number of areas.
- Be concrete rather than theoretical – a clear description of how you actually behaved in a particular situation (and why) can be more useful to the panel than a vague or general description of what you consider to be desirable attributes.

Good luck.
